ABOUT THE STATE

Mary, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
E. J. McCarthy of West Rutland was badly burned Saturday night by falling on the stove.

The old Pierce mill at Hinesburg, used and three this broken Monday by getting caught between two cars on the M. D. & G. railroad.

Paul Aust of Winoski received an ugly wound in one hand recently, while working in the American Woolen company's mill. A shuttle flew, striking there.

Mrs. William D. Fisher of Essex Junction severely burned both hands recently when a bowl, in which she was carrying grease, broke, letting the hot liquid run over them.

The baby boy, left on the doorstep of J. J. Thompson's home in St. Albans last June, has found a home with Mr. and Mrs. Mark Reagan of that city, who will probably adopt it.

late as a receiving station for the Condensed Milk factory at Richmond, burned to the ground Friday night, the fire having caught in the boiler room.

Three miles of the proposed electric railroad route between Rutland and Poultney has been surveyed and staked.
At present, 90 men are at work on the Chittenden dam of the Rutland Railway.
Light & Power company, which is being raised ten feet.

W. S. Hickox of Middletown Springs has just finished mounting for F. M.
Wilson of Rutland, a black bear that stands nearly six feet in height. The bear was killed in this state, which proves their ability to reach maturity without legislative protection.

The Rutland Railroad company has served a writ of attachment on the property of the Ely Marble company at Dorset, to satisfy a claim for a debt of $400. The attachment covers all marble of all kinds, form and shape, in the yards and mills, in the block, sawed, finished, or in the course of finishing.

December 13 was the fifty-fifth anniversary of the marriage of Norman P. Cabot and Lucy T. (Brooks) Cabot of Brattleboro, but there was no observance of the anniversary, aside from what was done by the family. Mr. Cabot was treasurer of the Vermont Savings bank for twenty-nine years.

Mrs. James B. Cobb, aged 92 years, who died recently at her home in Stowe, was the oldest resident of that town.
Her maiden name was Susan A. Bart.
She was born in Windsor but had lived in Waterbury and Stowe since she was 15 years old. Her husband died in 1871.
She is survived by two sons and three daughters.

Donald Arley, son of the late Dr. A.
T. Arley of Essex Junction, has been transferred from the naval training school at Newport, R. I., to the hospital at St. Albans, Vt., where he is now suffering from a severe case of rheumatism.
He was called to the hospital in 1871.
He is survived by two sons and three daughters.

St. Albans, which last year was so short in its water supply, is experiencing no trouble in that line this year.
Now it has 32 feet, nine inches, in the upper reservoir, compared with none there last year at this time, and the lower one contains 12 feet, eleven inches last year.

The post-office department, yielding to urgent requests of shippers along the former star route between Bethel and Gayville, has ordered the route re-established. It was discontinued several months ago when the White River railroad put on an additional train. The date of the reopening of the route is given as January 17.

William A. Hendrick, formerly of the Rutland Herald, but more recently of the Watertown (N. Y.) Times, is to have general control of the Times Publishing Co. of New Haven, Conn., which is to take over the publication of the New Haven Evening Leader, of which Mr. Hendrick has been general manager for the past few weeks.

Charles Rogers of Tunbridge got badly hurt Saturday. He was jumping into the silo with a pitchfork in his hand and it had been mended, going into his body, making a severe wound. Physicians were called and got a handful of silvers out of the wound and it is doing as well as could be expected.

The little child of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Hovey of Morrisville, has been suffering from what was supposed to be a boil on its side. Sunday, it was found that the trouble was caused by a needle, which had probably been swallowed by the child and was working its way out.
When found the needle was protruding far enough to be easily removed.

Claude Thompson of Ira was seriously injured Monday, while working on a gasoline sawing machine in West Rutland. He was running the saw and his hand slipped, the teeth of the saw causing an ugly gash back of the knuckles.
The bone running from the little finger was completely severed. It took eight stitches to close the wound. It is thought that the finger can be saved.

"Immediately after the production of "A Workingman's Revenge," at West Rutland, a working woman, Mrs. Barber of Cavendish, attached the receipts for a board bill. She claims that the Mack family and Tyrell Bros., who are said to own the show, ate at her table for some time and then left without settling.
Mack is said to be employed in the Cavendish woolen mills and takes to the show business as a side line.

A serious fire was narrowly averted Sunday in the livery stable which adjoins Hotel Wallingford in Wallingford, an employee there being awakened by smoke. A fire had burned through the floor and had set fire to the woodshed below, catching probably from the stove.
Several fire extinguishers had been brought into the office the day before to keep them from freezing, and they were used in good advantage, putting the fire under control soon.

A small foot stove carried by C. P.
Bascom, a Fair Haven rural mail carrier, set fire to his sleigh, which had been sheltered in the barn of Joseph Smith at West Haven during the disastrous fire.

When the fire was discovered, the horse had been badly burned and it is not expected that it will live. The fire had made such headway that it was impossible to save the barn, but the livestock was removed. The loss was about $800, partly covered by insurance. Another barn was burned on one end, but was not badly damaged.
Mr. Bascom was seriously burned about the head and face.

Alce Highman of Bakersfield, who has been working in a lumber camp in Belvidere, was seriously injured Friday by a tree falling on him. Mr. Highman was rolling logs and some men above him were taking a log down. When the tree came down it came Mr. High-man's way instead of the opposite direction as they expected. Mr. Highman saw the tree coming and ran, but the top of the tree whipped over an old stub and drove Mr. Highman down into the snow to the frozen ground. The feet that the snow was deep and only the top of the tree hitting him saved his life. He will recover.

The Bennington Base Ball association is to have paid men on the field next season, at least four games a week being played. Albert Haynes, the university of Vermont pitcher, played there last year and made an excellent record and will be made field manager of the team this year, if an agreement can be made with him. He has announced his wish to play for the Bennington team at the close of the college season. Two U. V. M. outfielders have agreed to join the 1910 team. A grandstand will be built at Tudor park, where games will probably be played Saturdays until the colleges close, beginning the season about the middle of May.

The Fletcher free library of Burlington has been favored with an exhibition of the Lumiere autochrome plates, recently loaned by the Lumiere North American Co., Limited. Nearly forty views were on exhibition, 22 being of Yellowstone park and the Canadian rockies, with others of local interest.
Most of the pictures were made by Dr.
H. F. Perkins of the university of Vermont. By using the Lumiere plates, the colors of nature are produced with accuracy. The library drew back to the process at present is that prints cannot be made from the colored plates. Doctor Perkins is of the opinion that this difficulty will be eventually overcome by some other invention.

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Fellows of White River Junction celebrated their silver wedding anniversary Monday, a genuine old-fashioned surprise party being given in their honor. Old Fellows, who were married in 1841, were present, and in addition to their townsmen, people, and left tokens of esteem for the couple. They were married at Haverhill, N. H., the home of the bride, and lived for some time at Lyme. About fourteen years ago, they moved to White River Junction, where they are honored citizens. Mr. Fellows is the proprietor of a marble and granite monumental business in that place, is a Mason and a past notable grand of Myrtle lodge, I. O. O. F., while Mrs. Fellows is a member of the auxiliary lodge of Rebekahs.

Victim Well Known in Rutland.
Edward L. Clogston of Jamaica Plain, Mass., who was seriously injured last week Tuesday in a collision at Northeast, Pa., when the St. Louis limited, going 60 miles an hour, crashed into the rear of the Chicago and Boston special in a blizzard, was well known in Rutland, where he lived for some time and was there for a while two years ago.
His wife is a Rutland girl. He is now an expert machinist with the Sturtevant Blower company of Readville, Mass., and travels extensively for the firm, installing its apparatus. He had been away from his family since September and was returning for Christmas when the accident occurred.

In the wreck, Mr. Clogston was seriously injured about the arms and legs, as well as being internally injured, and he is now in the St. Vincent hospital in Erie, Pa., where he was taken after the wreck. He is in a very precarious condition, but if blood poisoning does not set in, he will probably recover, although it will be many months before he will be able to leave the hospital.
His wife and five children live in Jamaica Plain, near Boston.

College Library Largely Increased.
Middlebury college library has recently received two valuable gifts. One from Doctor Starr, son of the donor of the library building, to be invested in books; and another gift of 50 volumes from Mr. Stevens of New York City.

In connection with the summer session and the department of pedagogy, publishers of educational works were invited to the college.

A WOMAN TO BE PRETTY

Must Have Luxuriant and Glossy Hair, No Matter What Color.

The finest contour of a female face, the sweetest smile of a female mouth, lose something if the hair is crowned with scant hair. Scant and falling hair, it is now known, is caused by a parasite that burrows into the scalp to the root of the hair, where it saps the vitality. The little white scales the germ throws up in burrowing are called dandruff. To cure dandruff permanently, then, and to stop falling hair, that germ must be killed.
Newbro's Hairdye, an entirely new result of the chemical laboratory, destroys the dandruff germ, and, of course, stops the falling hair, and prevents baldness.
Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Hairdye Co., Detroit, Mich.

One Dollar Bottles Guaranteed.
